

B.FED Global Trading Partner Program

To the Bit Federation Global Community,

As HNY moves toward a more open, market-driven trading environment, B.FED is entering a new stage of development—one built around greater openness, transparency, and participation in a global trading ecosystem.

A strong market needs real participants. It also needs people who are willing to help build the market, connect new participants, and develop capable market makers.

For this reason, Bit Federation Community is officially launching the B.FED Global Trading Partner Program.

This is not a short-term promotional campaign.

It is a long-term partner program open to members of the global B.FED community.

1. What Is a Global Trading Partner?

A Global Trading Partner is more than a traditional promoter or referrer.

We want our partners to become:

Market participants, community connectors, market-maker mentors, and builders of the B.FED ecosystem.

Through your personal network, community connections, and business relationships, you can introduce genuine participants to B.FED, help them understand the market, and connect qualified individuals with opportunities to become market makers.

Your contribution to real trading activity and market liquidity will be recognized and rewarded according to the program rules.

In simple terms:

Bring real trading activity, and earn trading contribution rewards.

Help develop capable market makers, and earn long-term partner rewards.

Build an active trading network, and earn team contribution rewards.

2. Refer Active Traders and Earn Trading Referral Rewards

Global Trading Partners can invite friends, community members, and genuine market participants to join the B.FED trading ecosystem.

When a referred participant completes eligible transactions and generates actual trading fees:

The referring partner can receive a percentage of the eligible trading fees generated by that participant.

Under the current program:

Direct Trading Referral Rewards can be as high as 10% of eligible trading fees.

This means you are not simply referring a one-time “registered user.”

You are building an ongoing relationship with an active trading participant.

As long as the participant continues to generate eligible trading fees under the community rules, the corresponding referral rewards may continue to accrue.

No genuine trading activity means no trading referral reward.

3. Refer Market Makers and Earn Long-Term Partner Rewards

For community members who want to participate more deeply in building market liquidity, B.FED will provide a dedicated Market Maker Partner structure.

When you introduce a qualified participant who becomes an approved B.FED market maker, you are helping strengthen market liquidity while becoming eligible to receive a long-term partner reward based on that market maker’s eligible trading fee contribution.

The current reward structure is:

Market Maker Level	Referral Partner Reward
L1	5%
L2	7%
L3	8%
L4	10%

These rewards are funded from actual trading-fee incentive pools and are not created through additional issuance of HNY.

Therefore:

The more active and consistent a market maker becomes, the greater the potential contribution generated for the partner who helped develop them.

4. This Is About Building Together—not Simply Referring Someone

B.FED does not encourage promotion based solely on numbers.

We place greater value on:

qualified participants, genuine trading activity, sustained participation, and long-term contribution.

After introducing a new partner, you can help them:

- Understand the trading rules
- Learn how the market works
- Participate in genuine trading activity
- Provide meaningful liquidity
- Develop into an active market maker
- Build their own trading network

As your partners grow and contribute, your own partner level and corresponding benefits may grow with them.

Our goal is not to create one-time referral relationships.

It is to build a system where:

Partners help partners. Participants help participants. And the community builds the market together.

5. Build Your Own Trading Partner Network

When the partners you introduce begin developing their own trading participants and market makers, eligible team contributions can also become part of the Global Trading Partner Program.

B.FED will establish four core reward categories:

Personal Trading Rewards

Market Maker Partner Rewards

Team Contribution Rewards

Global Leaderboard Rewards

The goal is to give people who are genuinely willing to invest their time, resources, and capabilities into building the market a path for long-term growth.

6. Global Trading Partner Levels

As the market develops, B.FED will introduce a structured Global Trading Partner level system.

Partner levels will not be determined simply by the number of people you invite.

The community may consider factors including:

- Eligible trading contribution
- Number of active market makers
- Liquidity contribution
- Team trading contribution

- Sustained activity
- Community-building contribution

In other words:

100 inactive accounts are not worth more than 10 genuinely active trading partners.

B.FED recognizes:

Meaningful contribution—not artificial numbers.

7. Global Trading Partner Leaderboards

To help members track their progress and recognize meaningful contributions across the global community, B.FED will progressively introduce global leaderboards.

These may include:

Global Trading Partners

Ranking based on eligible trading contribution.

Global Liquidity Partners

Ranking based on market-maker and liquidity contribution.

Team Trading Volume

Ranking based on eligible team trading contribution.

Partner Growth

Ranking based on growth in eligible contribution over a defined period.

Community Builders

Recognition based on broader community-building contributions.

Leaderboards will operate through periodic seasons.

Outstanding partners may receive community recognition, partner-level benefits, and rewards from the trading incentive pool.

8. We Value Consistent Activity

B.FED will not create a system where someone:

refers people today and receives full rewards forever without contributing again.

Global Trading Partners are expected to remain genuinely active and continue contributing to the ecosystem.

A partner's:

- Eligible trading activity
- Team trading activity
- Market-maker development
- Community contribution

may all be considered when determining ongoing partner activity.

Accounts that remain inactive for extended periods may have certain partner benefits or reward rates adjusted according to the applicable rules.

When meaningful contribution resumes, corresponding partner benefits may be restored.

We are not rewarding a title.

We are rewarding:

Continued action.

9. All Rewards Are Based on Genuine Market Contribution

B.FED follows one fundamental principle:

Rewards must come from genuine economic activity generated by the market.

The community will not continuously issue additional HNY simply because the number of partners or referrals increases.

The HNY supply mechanism remains independent.

Trading Partner rewards are primarily funded through:

trading-fee incentive pools generated by actual market activity.

The intended cycle is:

Real Participants

Real Trading Activity

Real Trading Fees

Trading Incentive Pool

Partner Rewards

More Market Participants

Stronger Market Liquidity

This creates a growth model built around genuine market activity rather than artificial expansion.

10. Strictly Prohibited: Manipulating the Reward System

To protect the interests of genuine participants, the following activities will not qualify as eligible contributions:

- Wash trading
- Self-trading
- Coordinated trading designed to manufacture volume
- Multi-account manipulation
- Fake or artificial transactions
- Deliberately generating trading volume for rewards
- Exploiting system vulnerabilities
- Attempting to extract incentives through non-genuine transactions
- Other abnormal activities identified by the community's risk-control systems

B.FED will maintain ongoing risk monitoring.

For serious violations, the community reserves the right to:

Cancel related rewards, suspend partner eligibility, withhold unsettled incentives, and take further action according to the severity of the violation.

Every reward should come from genuine market contribution.

11. Why Become a Global Trading Partner?

A mature market needs more than traders.

It needs:

Participants, market makers, liquidity partners, community builders, and global partners.

By joining the Global Trading Partner Program, you can start at the foundation level and grow through your own contribution:

Trading Partner

Active Partner

Liquidity Partner

Market Maker Mentor

Global Trading Partner

The more active your network becomes and the greater your contribution to the market, the greater your opportunity to earn corresponding partner rewards and benefits.

12. This Is More Than a Referral Program

We want every participant to understand:

B.FED is not looking for more accounts.

We are looking for:

More genuine traders

More capable market makers

Deeper market liquidity

A more active global community

More people willing to build B.FED for the long term

If you have:

- A global social network
- Community resources
- Business relationships
- Industry connections
- Market-making experience

- User development capabilities
- Community-building skills

you can become a B.FED Global Trading Partner.

13. The Global Trading Partner Program Is Now Open

B.FED Global Trading Partner Program

The program is now open to members of the global B.FED community.

Whether you are an individual community member or an experienced community builder with an established network; whether you want to introduce active traders or develop your own market-maker team, you can begin participating today.

Your first partner can start today.

Your first market maker can start today.

Your global trading network can start today.

B.FED believes:

One person's reach is limited. A community working together can build something truly global and open.

The future of the market will not be shaped by spectators.

It will be shaped by those who choose to participate, take action, and build.

B.FED Global Trading Partner Program

Trade. Build. Lead.
